The excitement caused by the prevalence of diphtheria and typhoid fever in Frankfort was intensified by two more deaths Tuesday, and by the appearance of a third disease, scarlet fever. Four cases of the latter are reported from one house. Several new cases of diphtheria are reported. The deaths from diphtheria were the two children of Frank Egbert, a gardener at the penitentiary.

HER FEAR.
She's fond of honey-suckle,
And Virginia creeper, too,
She loves the soft climber
And wistaria true-blue.
But oh, she's awfully afraid,
This little girl of mine,
If the birds she chance to meet
A wandering bovine.

The Ripley Shoe Factory has started up again.

Robert M. Gilliland, formerly of Ripley, died at Malvern, Kas.

Moses Combs was yesterday fined $1 and costs for a plain jail.

The Ripley Oddfellows will give a series of entertainments during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Owens and sons have taken rooms at Mrs. M. W. Coulter's.

Colonel George W. Rogers has moved into one of Dr. H. K. Adams' residences on West Second.

Samuel Kerr, formerly of this county and a brother of Mr. Thomas Kerr of Jersey Ridge, died near Shelbyville a few days ago. He was about 70 years of age and leaves a wife and nine children.

A new and some what pretentious chimney has been built on the lively stable, corner Second and Sutton. If a new house were now built to the chimney it would be a great improvement to the neighborhood.

The Democratic State Executive Committee has adopted an amendment to the rules governing the party organization, which prohibits Government employees or officials from being members of city or county committees.

Treasurer Thomas A. Keith has been on the rounds settling all outstanding accounts against the Baseball Club. The club fell behind a little over $100, but it will be made up. Mayville will probably have a first-class club next season.

Great was the excitement in colored circles at Vanceburg when Miss Retta Smith, a colored octonion, had Rev. R. E. Brown arrested, charging him with having grossly insulted her. Rev. Brown dashed upon Vanceburg from Portsmouth, and has been conducting a very successful colored connecting one mile East of the city.

The following invitation has been received by relatives and friends of the parties in this city:

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Orr invite you to be present at the marriage of their daughter Lulu Meyer to John Curtis Rains, Wednesday evening, November 7th, 1894, at 6 o'clock.

59 Carl avenue, North Fairmount, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Orr were former residents of Mayville, and Mr. Rains is a member of the well known coal manufacturing firm of J. H. Rains & Sons of this city. In advance The Ledger congratulates him on having secured such a lovely lady for his bride.

THE OLDEST

Oddfellow Dies at Augusta, Having Been a Member 63 Years.

Another of Augusta's old citizens has passed away.

Major P. S. Bladen died Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock at his home on Front street, at the old age of 92.

For several months he had been ill and was confined mostly to his room.

Years ago he was Sheriff of Bracken county.

He was a member of the I. O. O. F. Lodge, and was connected with that Order for sixty-two years, and was said to have been the oldest member in the United States.

His funeral will be preached by Rev. P. P. Ramsay Friday morning.

Ex-Postmaster Joshua Osborn died at Winchester, O., aged 73.

Mrs. Osten, an estimable lady of Cincinnati, died at the home of Mrs. Gallup at Collettsburg.

Kentucky raises 900,000 pounds of flaxseed annually—half of the crop of the United States.

November 1st is the day set for the sale of the franchise for an electric street car line through Catlettsburg.

Richard Hoff of Cincinnati married Miss Margaret Winston of Lexington last night. It was a big society event.

At Catlettsburg Dr. Silas Patton and John W. Dillon were painfully bruised by being thrown from a buggy in a runaway.

The A. P. A. had three more rousing meetings Tuesday evening at the Casino Club place. At least that's what The Ledger's office cat reports.

Ed C. Sellers, connected with W. B. Carpenter & Co., Cincinnati, was yesterday morning married to Miss Anna L. Howell, a popular belle of Covington.

The Sisters of Friendship Lodge No. 43, D. R., will give a social in the banquet room at Oddfellows Hall on tomorrow evening. It goes without saying that it will be an elegant affair.

Typhoid fever is raging with frightful severity in Berne, Union, Waeco and other villages in Madison county. Ten deaths have occurred in the last six weeks and new cases are reported almost daily. Bad water, the result of long protracted drought, is responsible for the epidemic, so say the local physicians.

Trainsmen on the F. P. V. train on the C. and O. are somewhat mystified at the appearance of an old woman who comes out upon a projecting rock near Vanceburg and waves her hand frantically at the F. P. V. as it swiftly passes by. No one seems to know who she is or where she comes from, but she is there every day as regularly as the train passes.

Beginning next Monday train No. 13 of the K. C. will reach Mayville at 7:30 p. m. instead of 9:22 as now. This will be a great advantage to our merchants, to say nothing of the convenience to travelers. Now, if the managers can only be induced to change the departure of the morning train to a later hour, Mayville will rise up and call them blessed.

"Faust," which will be the next attraction at the Opera-house, is still what it always has been—the most interesting, the most exciting, the most dignified of all spectacular dramas. And so admirably will the splendid proportions of the stage at the above house lend themselves to the unfolding of the pictorial features of the play that the effect wrought will be positively enchanting.

The Ripley Bee says Ed Davis was shot in the right breast at that place some fifteen months ago in a quarrel about a girl. The doctor probed for the bullet but could not find it. The wound healed, but gave Davis considerable pain. Last Sunday Drs. Tyler and Francis were called in and extracted the bullet, which proved to be a thirty-two caliber. It had passed through his body and was found in his back near one of his ribs.

A telegram received by Mr. C. C. Dobyns yesterday afternoon announced the death of Florence, Ala., of Miss Jennie Brown Robinson, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Robinson, formerly of this city. Miss Jennie, who is universally known as "Browlie," had been ill for some time, though her death was not expected. She would have been 14 years of age in February next. The remains reached here this morning and were interred to-day at the Mayville Cemetery.

Mr. Frank B. Slane and Miss Mamie McDonald were married at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the residence of the bride's parents, Norwood, O. Mr. Slane is a popular and successful young business man, and the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam McDonald, formerly of this city. Rev. R. C. Cox, a Baptist minister, performed the ceremony. The places of the usual attendants were supplied by Misses Helen and Ester Slane as flower girls, and Vernon Fitzpatrick of Garfield place as ring bearer. The house was beautifully decorated with ferns, palms, etc.

Pittsburgh Coal

at Wormind's Elevators. Ten cents per bushel for cash.

October 29th, 1894.

From New York comes the account of a suit against Edward J. Woolsey, who became pretty well known in Kentucky through his marriage to Mrs. Kate Trimble De Rood, a leader in Covington aristocratic circles, about one year ago. The suit is for $15,000, which was left as a legacy to Martha McNulty, and which Woolsey never paid her. The Woolsey-De Rood wedding in Covington was one of the most elaborate affairs of the kind that ever came off in the South. Some of Woolsey's presents to his bride were dazzling in their brilliancy, and the event was on the tongue of nearly everybody.

Dr. James H. Cochran has changed his residence from Philadelphia to Baltimore.

Mr. John Klipp has purchased the saddle and harness store of Mr. R. A. Toup.

Rev. M. P. Morgan will preach at the M. E. Church, South, in Washington Monday morning and night, October 29th.

Over 7,000 bushels of Irish potatoes were shipped from Harrodsburg in ten days. At 45 cents they amounted to $3,150.

The advertising columns of The Ledger speak for themselves. They show that people who know how to advertise know also where to advertise.

From now on there will be a flood of anti-election lies. It will be a good plan not to believe anything a Democratic politician tells you, and only half what you see.

The Republican County Committee will meet at the office of Hon. M. C. Hutchins, this city, on Monday, October 29th, at 10 o'clock a. m. All members are earnestly requested to be present.

The notice of marriage of Payton Brooks and Mrs. Lottty Patty, colored, appeared in The Ledger a few days ago. The groom is 53 years of age, while his bride is 45. Brooks was the father of three of the colored people who were drowned in the river opposite Ripley several years ago while crossing in a jobboat. They had been a dance in Ripley that evening. Their boat contained five persons and none of them live to tell the awful tale.

ROW IN THE CAMP.

The Catlettsburg Oddfellows Divided on the Saloon Question.

There's a trouble.

And it's just where it ought not to be. For some time there has been a division among the Oddfellows at Catlettsburg.

The Order owns a fine property, occupying one of the most prominent corners, opposite the Postoffice.

Parties made an exciting bid for a portion of the premises for a saloon.

The matter was debated pro and con for some time.

And finally, so the report goes, an order was passed renting the property for a saloon.

It created much feeling, and it is said if the bargain is carried out many of the best men of the Order will never enter its halls again, as they will not be thus identified with the saloon business.

At Jeffersonville, Ind., Judge Gibson rendered judgment for $700 in favor of ex-Mayor Luther F. Warder against Mrs. Sarah Goldbach. Mr. Warder, as guardian of Arabella Bonner, had deposited a sum of money belonging to his ward with Goldbach. The latter died and the Goldbach estate was sued. Captain Warder was a former resident of Flemington.

The following paragraph gives the political complexion of the House of Representatives since 1864: From 1863 to 1869 Schuyler Colfax was Speaker; from 1869 to 1875 James G. Blaine. From 1875 to 1881 the House was Democratic, presided over by Kerr and Randall. The Forty-seventh Congress, from 1881 to 1889, was Republican, under Speaker Kiefer. John G. Carlisle, Democrat, was Speaker of the House from 1889 to 1893. Red followed for two years, and the last close with Crisp, whose terms fill the years from 1891 to March, 1895, though a new Speaker will not be elected, unless an extra session is called, until December, 1895. It will be seen that each of the parties has had control of the House for sixteen years in the thirty-four years since the close of the war. Kiefer, Red, Crisp and Carlisle are the only ex-Speakers living. Banks and Grow having died within a few months.

FIGURES THAT TALK.

Permitting Words.

"Secretary Carlisle," says The State Journal, "has just issued a remarkable document. It is a statement of the receipts and expenditures of the Government from 1858 to 1894, and if the Republican National Committee had the task of preparing a campaign document it could not improve on the lesson taught by the eloquent figures furnished by the Treasury Department. GROWTH OF THE UNION.

Increase in Population of the United States the Past Century.

Chicago Times.

In 1790 there were 15 states and in 1894 there were 44. A population of 3,959,929 was recorded in 1790, and in 1894 there were 62,898,859 square miles, which in the original was but 805,461. Philadelphia was then the largest city in the United States, having a population of 42,320. New York coming second with 33,491. Boston 18,608 and Baltimore 13,936. Chicago, San Francisco, Milwaukee, Minneapolis and St. Paul were not on the maps, while St. Louis, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh were just beginning to be. New York, with a 1,710,713 census, Philadelphia with 1,142,933 and Chicago with 1,380,000, comprise more population than that credited to the country 100 years ago. The Congress of 1793 had 145 members and the Congress of 1893 had 448 on a ratio of representation of one to 173,801 of population to only 30,000 a century ago.

An evidence of the Nation's growth here is the money side of the review. In 1793 the receipts into the Treasury were $7,730,424, and in 1893 they were $461,807,788. The expenditures under Washington were $7,329,573, while in Cleveland's like year they amount to $450,461,114. From imports then the aggregate was $31,000,000, and in 1893 it was $856,421,000. The total value of exports in 1893, 100,000, and in 1893 the total was $847,508,924. Washington was satisfied with 309 Postoffice appointments, while Cleveland has 61,119 at his disposal. The revenue from Postoffices was then $104,745 and expenditures $23,000. The revenue in 1893 was $73,889,544. There were 19 colleges then and 567 now. Public Schools were among the unknown, along with railroads, the telegraph and telephone. In Public Schools alone for the year 1892 there are 13,010,192 children enrolled, with 390,634 teachers in charge.

KIDNAPED.

A Witness in the Lexow Inquiry Spirited Away.

She is Said to Be of More Importance Than Any Yet.

She Probably Paid More Money for Police Protection Than Any Other Woman Engaged in the Lexow Inquiry.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—A witness under subpoena, but who did not appear, created almost as much of a sensation before the Lexow committee Wednesday as any of those who have testified. The expectation that a police commissioner would be called drew an unusually large crowd. The waiting spectators and reporters were convinced that Mr. Goff was at last about to take the "step higher." But this hope was quickly dispelled after Mr. Goff's appearance. He entered the packed room, made his way with difficulty to the counsel table, and then, as if he were laboring under great excitement.

Without any consultation with the committee he said that for the first time since the investigation commenced he was compelled to ask for an adjournment, because a witness whom he knew was prepared to make disclosures which would have been more startling than any testimony yet presented to his committee had been spirited away on her arrival at the hotel in Jersey City. The committee adjourned until 2 o'clock, and at that hour adjourned for the day.

The witness who, it is alleged, was kidnapped, was a Mrs. Herman, of whom Detective Webb, one of Goff's men, tells this story: "Mrs. Herman was the keeper of three disorderly houses. She probably paid more money for protection than any other woman that business in the West. She said she paid to four different agencies a total of $25,000, and volunteered to testify. On September 8 she was subpoenaed to appear before the committee on the 11th. On the night of the 10th some one called on her and induced her to go with him in a stage, and took her to a place where she met four police captains. They sent her out of the city, and I went on to Chicago, where I found her a week ago Tuesday. She came back with me voluntarily."

It appears that Mrs. Herman reached Jersey City Wednesday morning in charge of two of the committee's agents. They were met by Senator Day, of New Jersey, who persuaded her to refuse to go across the ferry to New York, and had the Lexow committee agents arrested.

"LITTLE MAC."

Status of Gen. McClellan Contested at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—A score or more of generals and other officers, who either served on the staff of Gen. McClellan during the civil war, or commanded divisions of the Army of the Potomac, or held other important positions, met for the first time since the war Wednesday, when they were entertained at luncheon at the Hotel Stratford by the McClellan Monument association, prior to the unveiling of a statue of "Little Mac" in the city.

Immediately after the unveiling a parade of 11,000 United States marines and sailors, Pennsylvania National Guard, and others passed by the statue and gave a marching salute to the reviewing officer, Maj. Gen. Schofield, commander-in-chief of the United States army.

The unveiling ceremonies were witnessed by 20,000 persons, and at least one hundred thousand others viewed the procession as it passed along Broad street.

The statue is erected on the northwest corner of city hall plaza, only a short distance from a similar monument erected to the memory of Gen. Reynolds, which stands at the northern end of the plaza.

The McClellan monument, which represents the once commander-in-chief of the union army in full field uniform, astride of his horse, and overlooking the battlefield of Antietam, was jointly designed by Henry C. Picot and Paul M. Peck, of Washington, the former designing the statue proper, and the latter making the drawings for the pedestal.

It is not in connection with the affair is that Hoffer issued policies without the knowledge of the company, and insured and without medical examination.

As an instance, a policy was issued a short time ago to the mother-in-law of Mrs. Stewart. The lady was 72 years of age and bedfast, but Hoffer advised Mrs. Stewart that he did not have to see the risk, and no medical examination was required. The order issues a certificate with the names of the supreme officers lithographed upon it.

The Achievement of John S. Johnson on a Bicycle.

A Mile in One Minute and Thirty-Five and Two-Fifth Seconds.

One-Tenth Second Faster Than the World's Record for Running Horses—First Quarter Covered in 11.9.8 Seconds.

HUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 25.—John S. Johnson, rode the course in heavy black tights and two thick sweaters, which tended to impede the free play of his muscles. Electric timing arrangements were provided, and each quarter was checked at both start and finish, so that there can be no doubt of the accuracy of the performance.

The first quarter was covered in 21.25 seconds, crowding closely the best record for a thoroughbred horse on the same distance. In the second quarter, which was up hill, they went the distance in 25.5 seconds, four-fifths of a second slower than the half-mile record held by the California filly, Geraldine. The third quarter was made in 29 seconds, making the time for the three-fourths of a mile 2.45 seconds slower than the three-fourths made by Domino last fall.

The space in the stretch was wonderfully fast, and when the quadruplet crossed the line Johnson was a short foot behind the rear wheel, and riding as if set for an exercise ride. The official time for the mile was 1:35.25. Several club riders made the time 1:35.40, but John was the fastest, and that he can do a mile in 1:30, and will make the effort over the same course Thursday afternoon.

GERMANY TO MEDIATE.

Why She Should Take the Initiative—Japan Ready Now for a Settlement—China's Objections.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The peace negotiations between China and Japan are likely to take an unexpected turn, according to diplomats here who are informed on the progress of affairs. The critical influence of the war has for the time being diverted Russia from the attention she was going to give to the eastern war and has made it impossible that the east should take the initiative toward bringing the contestants together. The intervention of England or France has been viewed with distrust owing to the territorial interests those countries have in Asia. Under these circumstances diplomatic officials here say that Germany will undoubtedly take the initiative in any peace settlement. Whether such steps have already been taken is not known here, but the officials best acquainted with the facts say there is little doubt that the peace negotiation is now in the hands of Germany.

The explanation given for this is that any peace settlement at the present time would be to the advantage of Japan owing to her recent victories, and to a corresponding disadvantage to China. The present basis of settlement, as outlined by a member of the diplomatic corps, would be the acknowledgment by China of Korea's independence and the payment to Japan of an indemnity covering the expenses of the war. This basis it is said Japan would readily accept, as it would permit her to retire from the conflict with added prestige as a military power and with a large cash indemnity in her coffers. China on the contrary is not expected to yield to such an arrangement, humiliating to her pride and expensive to her purse. So that, should foreign intervention under Germany's guidance force the settlement, it is believed that China will be the poorer and less reluctant to accept on the terms prescribed.

PITCHED BATTLE.
Fought Between Two Factions in Kentucky—A Fend of Long Standing Fought Near Big Hill.

HENNA, Ky., Oct. 25.—News has just reached here of a pitched battle Sunday afternoon at Big Hill, in the extreme southwest corner of the county, near the Jackson and Rockcastle line, in which Link and John Van Winkle, brothers, on one side, and John Settle and his wife, on the other, were engaged. For some time bad blood had existed between Settle and the Van Winkles. While returning from a chestnut grove Sunday afternoon the Van Winkles met Settle and a companion in the road. The latter, it is reported, were intoxicated and angry with them. The Van Winkles opened fire on them with their revolvers.

A regular fusillade followed. Link Van Winkle revealed a ball in the leg. John was shot in the right temple, while Settle and his companion escaped unharmed. No arrests have yet been made.

The American Liner, Paris, Out Down an Unknown Vessel.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—A dispatch from Southampton says: Between 1:30 and 2 o'clock Tuesday morning the American line steamer, Paris, Capt. Wain, which arrived here Wednesday night from New York, ran down and probably sank an unknown vessel. The ship cleaner, Capt. As soon as the collision occurred the field was filled with the sailing ship. The ship showed signals of distress after the collision and that screams were heard aboard of her.

Terrible Drought.
TAMMERSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 25.—The drought in the Little Kanawha valley is the most terrible ever known. It really has not rained here to amount to anything since July 4. The rivers are the lowest ever known and the smaller streams and rivulets have long since dried up. The wells of drinking water in village, farm and city are fast drying up and the river water is not at all healthy. Stock is being driven into the city by any price and seedling can not be done.

Pullman Not Liable for Accidents.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 25.—Judge Pullman has rendered a decision in an action for damages against the Pullman Palace Car Co., in conjunction with the road on which Pullman cars are run. He holds that the Pullman Co. is not a common carrier, and is consequently not liable for damages as the result of injuries sustained in a wreck by passengers on its cars.

Sentenced to Death.
COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 25.—Jack Haddon, one of Tillman's dispensary constables, who killed the first man, a Negro, that died for violating the dispensary law, in Spartanburg, was sentenced to death in a recent case for murder and sentenced to be hanged January 18.

Attempted Self Destruction.
PARKESTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 25.—Mrs. A. C. Taylor, wife of Ex-Policeman Taylor, Wednesday, slashed her throat in three places with a razor, and was taken to the hospital. She had been wrenched the razor from her husband in a critical condition. Depon Taylor was the cause.
